Participants profiles:

Mark Larsen is a professional Forex trader. He is well known by the hundreds of Forex systems reviews he wrote and Forex videos he produced during the last 12 years. He has several review sites & blogs such as Forex Tester, Forex Systems Reviews and a free forex trading course called Secrets.bz.

Antony is a young talented MQ4 programmer from Russia. Four years ago after graduating, Antony and his friend Ronald got really interested in Forex trading and developed several successful systems. Finally they got noticed by Mark Larsen who decided to automate his new trading system called GPS Robot.

Mark: Hey guys, Mark Larsen here. You probably know me already by the hundreds of forex systems reviews I've written and forex videos I've produced over the last 12 years. In the last week I got over a thousand emails and blog comments with your questions about the new GPS Forex Robot. How does it work? Who is the creator? What is it all about? What's the strategy behind it? How is the performance? What makes it different from the hundreds of scam robots that were released recently? So today I decided to organize this webinar to cover all your questions and introduce you to my friends, young talented MQ4 programmers and just all-around good guys. So... Meet the creators of the GPS Forex robot – Antony Kemble and Ronald Kravchuk from Russia.

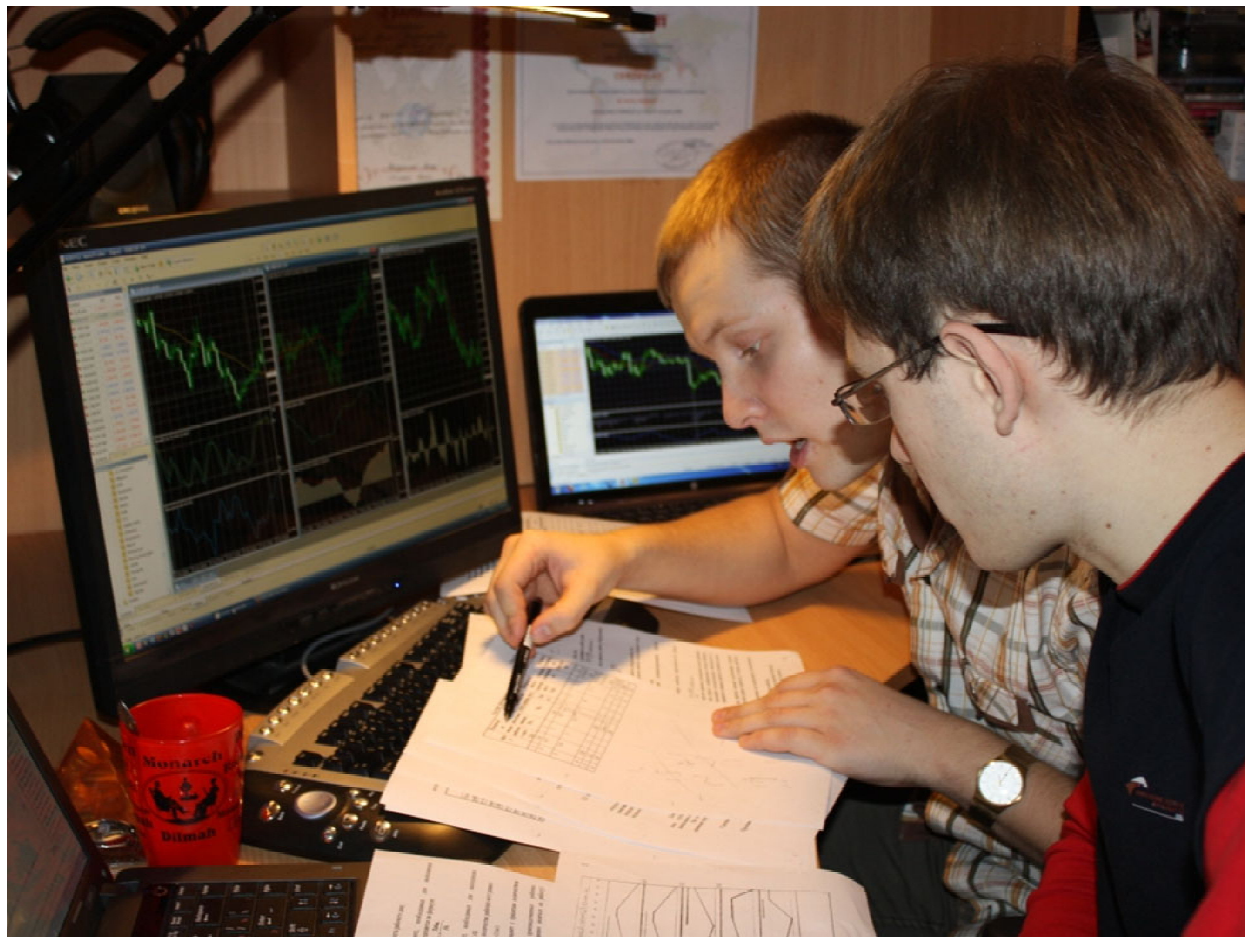

Antony: Hi Mark. Thank you for organizing the webinar! I am really excited to be here and have a chance to talk about our robot. Sorry guys about my accent. I am just a programmer, not a public speaker.

Mark: That's ok. No problem at all. So, Antony tell us a few things about yourself and Ronald. What's the history behind your GPS Forex Robot?

Antony: Well... Four years ago after graduating, Ronald and I got really interested in forex trading. Since we had a degree in programming, like most Russian guys we were really interested in developing a great software that can trade on autopilot for us. As you know, Russia is well known for its bright programmers...

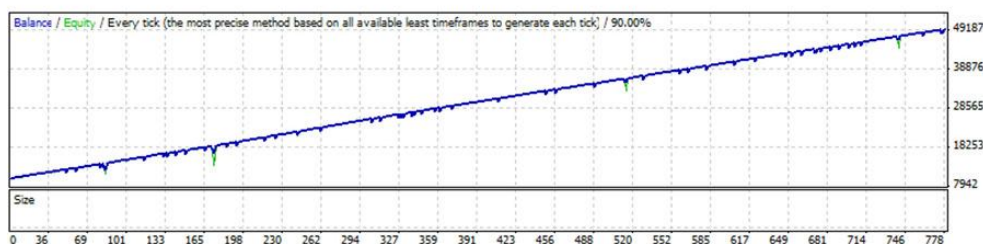

So... We developed several successful systems and... To make a long story short... we finally got noticed by Mark Larsen who was looking for MQ4 programmers to automate his new trading system...

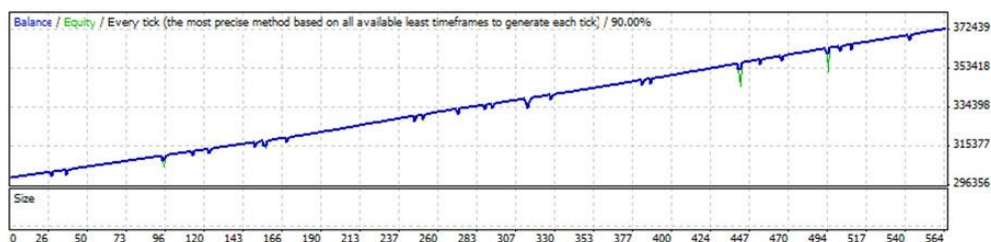

Once we did the job and made first backtests everyone was amazed how well it worked!

Mark: Right. So tell a little about the strategy behind GPS Robot.

Antony: The strategy itself is pretty complicated. In simple words, Like the GPS navigator in the car the robot is trying to predict the short term movement with a very high probability. That's why we decided to call it "GPS Forex Robot". 98% of the time, it is right!

Mark: And what if it is wrong?

Antony: ... In the 2% of cases when it is wrong my friend Ronald has added a great reverse strategy inside which instantly opens a trade in an opposite direction and covers the small loss. This simple trick makes the robot really undefeatable on both backtest and live trading!

Mark: You forgot to mention - the best part is - the system does not involve any tricks like martingale, grid or no-stoploss trading that can easily blow your account.

Antony: Yes, that makes it really powerful.

Predict the short term movement with a very high probability

Great reverse strategy inside which instantly opens a trade in an opposite direction

Undefeatable on both: backtests and live trading!

Really Powerful System!

Mark: So what makes it different from the other systems available on the market?

Antony: The GPS Forex Robot is not a scalper, nor is it a pyramiding or grid EA, and it's not like any other type of robot on the market. It uses an absolutely new approach, and moreover, our expert is unique to the forex market. You will not find anything similar on the internet.

NOT a scalper
pyramiding or grid EA
other type of robot

GPS Forex Robot uses an absolutely new approach, and moreover, our expert is unique to the forex market!

You will not find anything similar on the internet!

Mark: All right, let's tell the listeners how it works...

Antony: Ok.. I will briefly describe how the GPS Forex Robot works, without the use of any complex information, in the following example.

Let's use the EURUSD pair as an example to see the essence of the strategy. At some point in the Asian session, the USD started to weaken a little when compared to the EUR. It, as a rule, will give us the long position so that a profit is made fast enough in regards to the specific parameters, which the GPS Forex Robot uses. As you can see by the statistics, this occurs 98% of the time. However, if the price chart is under the influence of certain factors and drops sharply down, then you have to change your course of action and go to market with a short position. In this case, the likelihood of gaining a profit will be very high, despite the instability. This is a result of a strong downward trend forming from this type of price behavior.

How does the GPS Forex Robot work?

When it Buys, profit is made fast enough

When it Sells, profit is a result of a strong downward trend

Mark: Thank you Antony. Now it's time to answer several questions from the listeners...

Ok... here is the first question from Robert Martinez: "What timeframe does the robot use?"

Antony: It does not matter what timeframe you use when you install this expert advisor. It independently takes all of the information from the market and calculates the necessary parameters for optimal trading. We can only recommend the use of the M15 or H1 timeframe for better results of this expert advisor.

Mark: Next question... Laura asks "Are the settings that the robot currently has in place already optimized to the current situation in the forex market?"

Antony: Yes, the expert uses the best and safest settings, which were found by a large number of tests, optimizations and calculations of key indicators for profit, loss and risks.

Mark: Right... Next short question about trading from Ben Jones: “Does the EA trade daily?”

Antony: Yes, absolutely every trading day. This expert trades and in the most cases does intraday trading activity.

Mark: Ok let’s move on to the next question. Chuck asks: “Can we use this EA with the EURUSD pair?”

Antony: Of course you can! It also supports other pairs like: USDCHF and EURGBP.

Mark: Right. I will add that EURUSD pair is safest for trading with the GPS Forex Robot! Ok... Next one... Simon is asking «What is the minimum deposit necessary for trading with the GPS Forex Robot?”

Antony: When designing the GPS Robot, we immediately set out to take into account the fact that the overwhelming majority of experts now require a large initial deposit. Thus, for example, to start making money from buying a commercial robot for $149, you'll need to spend another thousand dollars to use it in the form of starting capital. With the GPS Forex Robot, you can start to make money right away, even if you only have $100 in your account. As a good example, our real money account began with an initial deposit of $250, and currently has a balance of almost $1,000.

Mark: Thanks Antony for clarifying that. Low minimum deposit makes it really affordable for small traders! Next question is from Fang Li “Thanks Mark and Antony, the robot looks awesome and I really want to get a copy! My question is when does it trade? Is it every hour, during certain sessions or at any time??”

Antony: The GPS Forex Robot can trade any time of the day depending on the market situation. It is not stuck to the specific session like some scalpers.

Mark: I will reply to the next one myself: “On average, how long does your expert hold a position?” Well, for all three pairs, the GPS Forex Robot averages a duration of roughly two hours.

Antony: Yeah, sometimes it closes even faster!

Mark: Question from Sandra: “Is it sensitive to the spread?” I guess this is a popular one.

Antony: Yeah, everyone asks that!! The answer is NO, the GPS Forex Robot is not sensitive to the spread. For example, with the EURUSD pair, for only one trading operation, the expert takes an average profit in 8 pips, while the average spread for this currency, for example on the Alpari UK or IamFX brokers, is only 0.6 pips.

Mark: This one is important. Benny is asking how much money can we make with GPS robot? What is the percentage of gain in an average month?

Antony: If you set the expert on all three currency pairs with the fixed lot size, you may expect about 30% of clear profit. However, you also can use the money management and increase the month’s profit in geometrical progression. This is what we do with our own accounts.

Mark: Let the numbers speak for themselves. They can say it better than thousands of words. Tell us, Antony, about the results we got.

Antony: Here is one of my live accounts. As you can see it started in November 2009 with a deposit of 4 750 USD and over the last year it grew to over $17,000. Not bad, huh?

In April 2010 I got really excited and opened a second account in Alpari with a deposit of 8000 USD. During the last 6 months the GPS robot generated almost 19 thousand dollars of clear profit for me.

And here is Ronald's account on lamfx brokerage. Ronald did not have much money back then so he started with only 250 USD in February 2010. As you can see during the last 10 months his account tripled by trading 3 currency pairs! Like I said before, GPS robot does not require huge deposits to start trading.

Mark: Sounds great. What did you do with the money by the way? Bought a yacht? He he Antony: Well, not really.. But Ronald and I already bought new cars. Here is a picture. Yeah, those are really our cars, not Photoshop! ☺

Mark: He he... Possible Gains are really great. However a fellow trader with the nickname Patt1976 is worried about the risks: “What is the risk percentage for the GPS Forex Robot?”

Antony: In practically every book about the forex market, the experienced traders recommend not to have a risk with more than 10% of the money from your trading account. In our trading with real money, which you can find on the web site, the drawdown did not exceed 8% of the current balance. We use the most optimal combination of risks and profit, so the GPS Forex Robot shows great results!

Mark: True... Here is an Important question from Jake Sanders: Are you going to limit the number of copies on the market?" I will take this one myself:

After 1 year of live tests with Antony and Ronald and my private betatesting group we decided to offer GPS robot to a limited number of fellow traders, who are looking for a powerful trading system... that really works.

This is not some stupid scarcity tactic like other scam marketers use. As you can see, there is a live counter-back with the number of copies left on this page. Once it reaches zero the sales will be closed and the "SOLD out" message will appear. That's it. We are not going to sell it to the whole world and limit the effectiveness of the robot!

Antony: Guys, if you want to jump in – do it now, while the counter has not yet reached zero.
